Art Deco Living in Premier DC Location

This fall, discover Art Deco living at its finest where two of DC's most reputable neighborhoods collide. Welcome to 2737 Devonshire Place NW #207, a 2-bed, 1.5-bath condo spanning 1,400 square feet. Set in the reputable Woodley Park Towers that's been featured in James Goode's Best Addresses, this stylish condo boasts captivating period details at every turn. A seamless fusion of past and present, the home's original layout and architectural intricacies have been preserved, with many features thoughtfully updated for the 21st century. Inside, original dark oak floors, period plasterwork, and a geometric arch envelop you in wonder and warmth. The open, inviting floor plan makes room for all of life's moments, while the recently renovated So Domino kitchen is the ultimate culinary backdrop. The entire home is brimming with contemporary conveniences—from the gorgeous marble bathrooms, to the sound system and speaker wiring in the office and living room. Work from home with iconic Klinge Valley Park views at your fingertips, or unwind from the comfort of either spacious bedroom—with each boasting walk-in closets.

Nestled on a tree-lined street between Woodley and Cleveland Park, this full-service, pet-friendly building combines the best of luxury and location. Residents at Woodley Park Towers have access to a fitness center, party room, garage, library, doorman, 24-hour front desk with security, and a designated storage room/unit—to name just a few. And when you're looking to get outside, the building is home to a private outdoor patio that's practically designed for socially-distanced gatherings. Overlooking Klinge Valley, Tregaron Conservancy, and just minutes to the acclaimed Rock Creek Park, this location makes it easier than ever to experience nature. Walk a short distance to either Woodley or Cleveland Park, two of the city's most charming neighborhoods, or hop on the Metro to take in the sights and sounds of downtown. Where character meets convenience, 2737 Devonshire Place NW #207 is your chance to own a piece of history that will never go out of style.
